

FEEDER CONTROLLER

The feeder control boxes supply the hopper, bowl drive, and inline track with the power required to vibrate the parts along and into the nest. The controller will have a potentiometer dial associated with each coil series to control the amplitude of the vibration. The controllers can be set to output 60hz or 120hz, dependent on the application.

